

PRESS RELEASE

Allied Aviation was awarded the Southwest Airlines (GSE) Ground Service Equipment Contractor of the year award for 2013.

This was an impressive achievement, within two years Allied Aviation was named the GSE contractor of the year, this shows the hard work and the dedication of our employees. This award was presented to LGA, CHS and DCA.

Allied Aviation understands and will continue providing high quality, cost effective Ground Service Equipment Maintenance. For over 60 years Allied Aviation has provided services at major airports throughout North America. Allied has over 2,200 employees who are dedicated to supporting our customer's needs. Allied Aviation provides GSE maintenance at several locations including LGA, DCA, CHS, SMF.

The repair and upkeep of the Ground Support Equipment is essential to the performance of Southwest Airlines. Without a reliable ground service fleet, Southwest core business of transporting customers across the nation would not have the premier reputation that it currently maintains. Allied has proven time and time again that we are able to adapt and perform under all circumstances and will continually prove that our operation meets or exceeds Southwest Airlines expectations.
